

TO IMPRISON EX-KAISER IN LONDON

ALLIES WILL NOT SEEK THE DEATH PENALTY

To Ask Banishment of Former Hun Ruler to Remote Island

LONDON, July 3.—William Hohenzollern, former German emperor, will be brought to England in a British ship and imprisoned in the Tower of London, according to the Daily Mail.

The death penalty will not be sought, the newspaper points out, but if he is found guilty the allies will ask his banishment for life to a remote island, following the precedent of Napoleon's exile on St. Helena.

The international trial court had intended to try the former emperor alone, the Daily Mail says, but it is possible that the former crown prince, Frederick William, will also be arraigned before it.

Explains Peace Treaty.
LONDON, July 3.—(By The Associated Press.)—The prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George, delivered in the house of commons this afternoon an explanation of the peace treaty which he described as "the most momentous document to which the British Empire ever affixed its seal."

Loudly Cheer Premier.
The showing of the effects of his long labors at Paris and lacking his usual fire, the premier at three made impassioned utterances and was loudly cheered. His announcement that the former German emperor would soon be placed on trial before a tribunal sitting in London was cheered most of all while his presentation of the Anglo-French convention providing for British aid if Germany should attack France unprovoked—a convention analogous to one between the United States and France—was greeted with unrestrained approval.

The speech recalled some of the great speeches of the war. All the seats were taken and every inch of standing room was pre-empted. The Prince of Wales, the American ambassador, John W. Davis and Thomas Nelson Page, the Japanese and Italian ambassadors and many other noted persons were in the distinguished visitors' gallery. The gallery behind them was unusually colorful, because under the recent rules, which were adopted to this section and nearly monopolized the space.

The premier had a good reception from all sections of the house. His speech was largely impromptu. He told of the peace conference's efforts to prevent wars in the future, and reviewed some of the striking restrictions put upon Germany in the treaty signed at Versailles.

Discussing the determination of the allied and associated powers to place on trial William Hohenzollern, the former German emperor, as the man held chiefly responsible for the war, he declared that if such a course had been followed after other wars "there would have been fewer wars."

To Make Example of Germany.
It was the intention to make such an example of Germany as to discourage others from "ever again attempting to repeat this infamy."

Speaking of the territorial terms of the treaty, Mr. Lloyd George said the territory taken from Germany was a matter of restoration. It was a restoration of Alsace-Lorraine, he said, taken forcibly from the land to which its population was deeply attached. It was a restoration of Schleswig-Holstein, the taking of which he described as the "meanest of Hohenzollern frauds, robbing a helpless country in the pretense they were not doing it and then retaining the land against the wishes of the population," and restoration of "a Poland torn to bits by Russia, Austria and Prussian avarice and now reeking under the flag of Poland," and he added, "they are all territories which ought not to belong to Germany."

There was a significant passage when the premier first mentioned the league of nations. Many of the members cheered by seemingly nearly an equal number burst into laughter.

"I beg of you to try it. I beg of you to take it seriously," the premier protested.

Proceeding, he declared: "If I saved one generation from the horrors of war it would be a great achievement."

One member shouted "nobody wants it."

The premier paid special tribute to the work of the British expert advisers, which, he said, had been the object of the admiration of the nations at the conference and ended with an appeal for the victory loan, with one of his typical flashes, "don't demobilize the spirit of patriotism."

WILLARD AND DEMPSEY MEET IN RING TODAY

Contenders Prepare Statements Giving Views of Battle

TOLEDO, July 3.—With the world's heavyweight pugilistic championship at stake Champion Jess Willard and Challenger Jack Dempsey will box twelve rounds at Bay View Park, on the banks of the Maumee river here tomorrow in what is expected to be the greatest event of its kind ever staged. Eclipsing all previous records in this direction, Promoter Tex Rickard has guaranteed $100,000 to Willard, win, lose or draw and $27,500 to Dempsey under the same conditions, while the profits from the moving pictures will be divided into thirds.

An arena to seat 80,000 spectators has been erected at a cost of $150,000 and if the gate receipts are up to expectations more than $1,000,000 will pass thru the hands of the promoter. Whatever the amount received for admission of spectators, seven per cent will go to local charities, ten per cent to the government in form of war tax, while scores of other expense details will cut heavily into the huge sum. The boxers have agreed to box under the Marquis of Queensberry rules with the kidney punch and side hand chop blow, in ring parlance the "rabbit punch," barred. There will be one minute rest periods between rounds and a referee and two judges to pass upon the pugilistic merit of the contenders. In case both men are on their feet at the close of the twelfth round.

Referee to Decide.
In case of a knockout the action of the referee in counting out the fallen boxer will close the bout. In case the judges disagree after twelve rounds of boxing the referee will cast the deciding vote. He will also be required to secure confirmation of at least one judge before disqualifying a principal for fouling or other violation of the rules.

More than the usual number of officials will be employed in passing upon the merits of the boxers for in addition to the referee there will be two judges similar to the system in vogue in England. Olie Pecora of Toledo will act as referee assisted by Rickard and Major Anthony J. Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia in the capacity of judges. They will sit on different sides of the ring and will reach any decisions required of them without consultation.

Both principals appear to be trained to perfect condition. Willard will probably enter the ring weighing about 245 pounds, while Dempsey is expected to be within a pound or so of the 200 mark. In almost every physical measurement, the champion will have the advantage of the challenger, being the largest man who ever held the title. Notwithstanding these physical handicaps Dempsey has the popular following and he is selected to win by many shrewd ring followers, partly due to his youth, for he is 24 years, to Willard's 37 and his impressive rushing, fighting style of boxing.

Wagering on the bout indicated the uncertainty that prevails regarding the outcome. Even money is quoted in some commissions while just across the street Willard adverts are giving ten to nine.

Play in the parimutuel department showed opinion about evenly divided on the result should the affair go the full 12 rounds. Betting on the probability of a knockout centers about the rounds seven and eight as has been the case for several days.

Boxers Make Statements
In statements prepared for the Associated Press Willard and Dempsey gave views on the contest of tomorrow as follows:

"From the day I signed the contract to defend the championship I have been my one idea to enter the ring in condition to give my best efforts to the public and titular honors which I am fortunate enough to hold.

"I have trained with this in mind for a period of more than three months to the best of my ability and intend to give every ounce of strength and degree of skill that I possess to the defense of the championship. I know that some followers of boxing do not agree with my system of training, but I am convinced I know myself and my conditioning requirements. I believe that I am in perfect shape and confident that I shall successfully defend the championship. If it should prove that I am wrong, I shall stand up like a man and admit the superior boxing ability of my opponent without quibble, excuse or alibi. Beyond that I feel that events must speak for themselves."

Auto Bandits Rob Downers Grove Bank

CHICAGO, July 3.—Five automobile bandits today held up the First National bank of Downers Grove, Ill., a suburb and escaped with $2,000 in currency and $5,000 in Liberty Bonds. They over-looked $5,000 hidden in a drawer. The robbers were followed for miles by citizens in motor cars and several revolver shots were exchanged in the chase.

Four of the five robbers entered the bank while the other member of the gang remained on watch in the automobile. They covered Dewey Reidy, the bookkeeper who was talking to a customer at the bank, the only official in the bank at the time.

The bookkeeper and customer were locked in the vault by the robbers and then hurriedly ransacked the drawers, took what money and bonds they could find and escaped.

Several automobilists who were passing the bank chased the robbers who started toward Chicago. An hour later a report was received that an automobile in it which was believed were the robbers, had passed Lyons. The robbery was reported by telephone to the Chicago police and the highway leading into Chicago from the west are being closely watched.

FIGHT FIRST DUEL SINCE WAR BEGAN

PARIS, Wednesday, July 2.—The first duel to be fought in France since the beginning of the war occurred at Bayonne when M. Carrat, mayor and Deputy, exchanged pistol shots with M. Gemmes, vice president of the chamber of commerce without result. This was one of the numerous affairs dating back a long time but held in suspense until the conclusion of peace. It is not expected, however, that there will be an epidemic of duels, time having settled many of these quarrels.

MISSOURI RATIFIES.
Jefferson City, Mo., July 3.—Missouri today ratified the federal suffrage amendment when the senate concurring in the action of the house yesterday passed the adopting resolution by a vote of 28 to 3.

cast his victory in the following words:

"Six weeks of consistent training has made me fit for the big event of my life. In all my career I never felt better than I do right now and I am as certain of victory as a man can be. The business of Willard does not bother me. I like the big ones. Carl Morris and Fred Fulton were not dwarfs and I put both of them away, doing the trick each time in less than one round. No man in the world can withstand the attack I will wage when I enter the ring with Willard. My youth, strength and natural fighting ability will prove more than an offset to the extra poundage of the champion. I have never met a man I feared. They all look alike to me and unless Willard is the superman claimed by his supporters I will knock him in a hurry. I would not be surprised to list him along with Fulton, Morris and the other one-rounders. He may get by the first but if he does he is only framing a lot of trouble for himself. I'm sure ready to go to him. I hope it is a good battle no matter how short it is. Take it from me, tho, you are talking to the winner."

GIVE OUT TEXT OF GUARANTEE PACT WITH FRANCE

Agreement with United States Cites Articles of Treaty

PARIS, Wednesday, July 2.—By The Associated Press.—The texts of the agreements between France and Great Britain were given out by the foreign office late tonight. The agreement with the United States cites articles of the peace treaty prohibiting Germany from fortifying either the right or left bank of the Rhine or assembling forces within thirty miles east of the Rhine and provides, in case these provisions do not assure France proper security and protection, United States is bound to come immediately to the aid of France if any unprovoked act of aggression is made against her by Germany.

It is provided that the treaty shall be submitted to the council of the league of nations which shall decide whether to recognize it as an engagement in conformity with the league covenant and also provides that the treaty shall be submitted to the United States senate and the French parliament for approval.

Text of the Treaty.

The text of the treaty follows: "Considering that the United States of America and the government of the French republic are equally animated by a desire to maintain the peace of the world, so happily restored by the treaty signed at Versailles on June 28, which put an end to the war began by aggression of the German empire and terminated by the defeat of that power and, 'Considering that the United States of America and the government of the French republic fully convinced that an unprovoked aggression directed by Germany against France would not only violate at the same time the letter and spirit of the Versailles treaty to which the United States and France are parties, thus exposing France anew to the intolerable burden of unprovoked war but that such aggression would constitute an act repugnant to the treaty of Versailles, as being against the powers signatory to the treaty and calculated to trouble the peace of the world, involving inevitably and directly the states of Europe and indirectly the entire world as experience has amply and unhappily demonstrated, and

"Considering that the United States of America and the government of the French republic apprehend that the stipulations concerning the left bank of the Rhine cannot assure immediately to France, on one hand and to the United States, on the other, a signatory power to the treaty of Versailles appropriate security and protection

"Consequently the United States of America and the government of the French republic having decided to conclude a treaty to realize these necessary ends Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America and Georges Clemenceau, president of the council of ministers and minister of war and Stephen Pichen, minister of foreign affairs, specially authorized to that end by the President of the United States of America and Georges Clemenceau, president of the council of ministers and minister of war and Stephen Pichen, minister of foreign affairs, specially authorized to that end by the President of the French republic, have agreed upon the following:

Agreement of Treaty.
"Article I.—The following stipulations concerning the left bank of the Rhine are contained in the peace treaty signed with Germany at Versailles, June 28, 1919, by the United States of America, the government of the French republic and by the British empire, among other powers:

"Article XLII.—Germany is prohibited from maintaining or constructing fortifications either on the left bank of the Rhine or on the right bank west of a line running fifty kilometers to the east of that river.

"Article XLIII.—In the area defined above the maintenance and the assembly of armed forces either permanently or temporarily and military maneuvers of any kind, as well as the use of permanent works for mobilization are in the same way forbidden.

"Article XLIV.—In case Germany violates in any manner whatever the provisions of Article XLII and XLIII she shall be regarded as committing a hostile act against the powers signatory of the present treaty, and as calculated to disturb the peace of the world."

Hungary Soviet Orders Forty One Executions

VIENNA, Wednesday, July 2.

(By The Associated Press.)—The executions of forty youths of the Budapest military academy and the three officers were ordered by the Hungarian soviet government as reprisals against anti-communists who attempted to seize the telephone and telegraph stations and who bombed soviet headquarters according to delayed dispatches from Budapest.

Bela Kun, head of the communist government issued a proclamation that since proper appreciation had not been shown of the "mild treatment of the past three months blood shall flow now henceforth, if necessary, to insure the protection of the proletariat."

Many were killed and wounded during the disorders and a hundred of the counter-revolutionists were arrested. Three of the anti-communist officers were executed. The disorders began on June 24. Three monitors in the Danube river, whose officers and crews aided the counter-revolutionary forces, bombarded soviet headquarters.

Fifty youths from the military academy who held the central telegraph station surrendered to government forces after the anti-communists failed to send aid. Forty of these youths were executed immediately. The pawns were erected on Kosut street for the hangings.

Lieutenant Colonel Romanelli of Italy, the only allied representative remaining here, wrote to Bela Kun that the allies would not tolerate ruthlessness against hostages or anti-communist prisoners. Bela Kun to France, on one hand and to the United States, on the other, permit its influence with its internal affairs. Colonel Romanelli protested against the hangings but he was unable to save the forty military colleagues.

POLICE READY FOR POSSIBLE OUTBREAK

New York, Chicago and Other Cities Ready to Stop Radicals

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Every law agency in the country will co-operate tomorrow in preserving order against reported plans of anarchists and other radicals to create a reign of terror by bomb explosions.

Officials of the department of justice have said that they knew of no concerted plot for independence day but no chances are being taken. The bureau of investigation has enlisted the police of all cities in their purpose to put an end to criminal agitation.

The plans have not been divulged but it is known that many suspected persons have been under surveillance and that they will be arrested on the least auspicious move.

Adequate precautions have been taken for the protection of public officials but the nature of the safeguards necessarily have been kept secret.

Mobilize Police Force

New York, July 3.—Every man of New York's police and detective force, more than 11,000 in number was mobilized tonight to remain on continuous duty until Saturday morning as a precaution against another possible attempt by anarchists to inaugurate a reign of terror on Independence Day.

Special guards were thrown about the city's public buildings and the homes of citizens who because of their wealth or prominence in their efforts to stamp out radicalism might be targets for the terrorists.

As an added precaution plans were perfected for the rapid mobilization of the city regiments of the state guard in the event of any widespread disturbance which might prove more than the police could handle.

Prepare for Emergency.

Chicago, July 3.—Altho no evidence of any plot by radicals for an unlawful demonstration tomorrow had been found the police and federal authorities announced today they were prepared for any emergency. All policemen were held on duty from 6 p. m. until Monday noon.

Hundreds of officials and others and industrial plants will be guarded by the mounted police on duty at the stock yards. Officers of the Illinois reserve militia said they would remain in the city on the Fourth, about 1,000 volunteers, chiefly former American Protective League operatives, and about 500 American Legion Veterans will aid the federal agents.

The Chicago Money strike committee has called for a "peaceful" five day strike beginning tomorrow. Numerous meetings were scheduled for tonight and tomorrow and agents of the police and government will attend all.

Warn Industrial Plants.

Pittsburgh, July 3.—A warning to industrial plants in this vicinity to maintain special guards as a precaution against bomb outrages tomorrow was contained in a telegram from George F. Lumb, acting superintendent of state police at Harrisburg, received this afternoon by Chief of Detectives Clyde S. Edehorn. The telegram said the state police had received reports of thefts of large quantities of powder and dynamite in different parts of the state in the last few days, believed to have been stolen by radical agents.

NEW COMMUNITY
HIGH SCHOOL LAW.

The fact that 32 new high school districts were organized between July 1, 1917, and October, 1919, shows the great demand for a community high school law. Perhaps, thirty more districts were getting ready to organize under the law when the action of the supreme court stopped further proceedings. A few districts were so anxious to go forward that they took advantage of the old township high school law. The re-enactment of the community high school law, with the omission of the part which was declared unconstitutional by the court, will be the signal for many districts, which have been waiting, to proceed immediately to organize under this new law. It is hoped that those who lead in the organization of their new district will exercise great care in describing a territory reasonable in its area and normal in its boundaries.

ANOTHER CURE FOR RANK BOLSHIEVISM.

"There are 8,000,000 persons who own their homes in France, and I am very sure there will be very little Bolshevism in that great country for this reason," declared Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the U. S. shipping board. "A man who owns his own home is a better citizen, his family is better provided for, and he is a better workman when he carries on his shoulders the responsibility of a home."

Writing along this same line in the July issue of associate men, by F. T. Miller, formerly director of the division of public works and construction, department of labor, says, "In this country in 1890, statisticians advise us, 52 per cent lived under the rental system, in 1910 at least 55 per cent, and that now it is probably 58 per cent. Slight as the percentage charges are, the tendency toward tenantry in this country has extended over many years and is unmistakable, and is the most ominous sign for a country of majority rule. If today but 42 per cent of the people live in their own homes, twenty years hence but 35 per cent may do so. The landlord class is increasing and the property owning class is decreasing."

"A mammoth interest in the nation's wealth and the widest possible distribution of real property are essential to our national well-being."

"Since the Declaration of Independence, the United States has been involved in a war on an average of once in twenty years.

These were not offensive wars, but to defend the home. That is another reason why home owning is of great importance today."

Public sentiment is well represented in the law passed by the legislature making it illegal to teach any language other than English in the elementary schools of Illinois, whether public or private. This means that there will be no German language education in schools of this class in this state.

Another good action taken by the legislature was in putting an end to high school fraternities. These organizations have as a rule not been helpful to the boys and girls of high school age.

No wonder that bacon and other pork products now command regal prices. Hogs broke all records yesterday when they sold in one of the principal livestock markets at $22.35 per cwt. Yet some people wonder why retail prices of pork products are higher than used to be the case.

MR. HOOVER'S RECORD.

The indications are that Mr. Hoover is going to retire from the food administration and return to his own private affairs. Tremendous responsibilities have rested upon Mr. Hoover's shoulders during the war period. He has had some criticism but not very much in comparison with the vast importance of the duties he performed. It must be said to his credit too that with such marvelous opportunities for graft as were presented to him, there has never been real suggestion of scandal in connection with his administration of affairs.

A DEEPER MEANING.

July 4 is here. It will be celebrated more enthusiastically than ever before. It will be a noisy Fourth but with more underlying meaning than Americans have grasped in the past. Gov. Lowden said recently that "One of the gains of the war has been a new sense of Americanism that has come to our people."

A year ago America was engaged in a world war with every prospect that the conflict would continue for many months and that hundreds of thousands of Americans would be called upon to lay down their lives. So the Fourth of July this year has a new and deeper meaning and genuine thankfulness will be found behind most of the noisy enthusiasm.

KEEP AN EYE ON THE CHILDREN.

Above all things today, take care of the children. They are not always as careful as they should be. They do not sense danger as well as their seniors and in the midst of noise and enthusiasm are likely to take on some of the excitement. A little special care on the part of grown ups will prevent accidents.

WELL PROTECTED.

Jacksonville will be policed today to an extent never before known. In addition to the augmented police force a force of more than forty marshals has been given full police powers. A definite plan for the protection of the public has been worked out. The plans are not so much to preserve order as for the safety of the people, old and young. In order to make this a Fourth of July without an unfortunate accident all that is necessary is the reasonable co-operation of the people with this large force of guardians of the peace.

NO PEACE LIKE HOME.

Have you ever noticed what a beautiful place your home seems after you return from your annual summer vacation? Most people plan, save and prepare for a summer outing, and when they return declare that after all, home is the coolest and most comfortable spot they know about. Nevertheless, each passing year they take a "vacation."

Rippling Rhymes

Rest.
The sun is setting in the west—a first rate place to set—and neath my tree and vine I rest, all bathed in honest sweat. The sky is grand, with colors blent in strange and gorgeous tones; and I am feeling quite content, for I have earned three bones. There's nothing half so sweet as rest, when one has done his chores and has his wages in his vest, and credit at the stores. There's no such thing as rest, by George, unless it's earned by toil, by swinging hammers at the forge or scrapping with the soil, by doing something that's strain on nerves or mind or thews, by digging postholes in the rain, or chasing after news. There are a thousand varied brands of toil for which to fall; and some must labor with their hands and others with their gall. But only those who do their best, whatever be their trade, can know the luxury of rest for weary mortals made. The moon is rising in the east—a bully place to rise—and I have had my frugal feast of codfish balls and pies; and now beneath my tree and vine I rest in divers styles and watch the planets as they shine, and send them back their smiles.

MAURICE HEAD HOME.
The Carlville Democrat of June 25th had the following regarding a soldier in which many of our people will be interested, because the young man is the son of Mrs. Belle Stevenson Head formerly of Jacksonville and a grandson of B. F. Stevenson. His name also recalls that of his uncle Maurice Stevenson: "Maurice Head arrived home Sunday morning from Camp Grant, where he received honorable discharge from the army. He was a member of Co. M, 54th Infantry, 6th division, and saw active service overseas. He left Carlville May 18, 1918, and was in the army over a year. Maurice went over the top and across No Man's Land and paid his respects to Fritz. Among the souvenirs he brought back is a French sabre and bayonet combined. It is a little longer than the customary bayonet. He also brought home the helmet which he wore when in active service in France and the regulation American gas mask. The young man is looking well, but since the war is over, he is glad to be out of the army and back home again. He is a son of Mrs. H. B. Head, and a brother of Misses Florence and Nell Head."

KNOLES FURNISHED
PATROLMEN HATS

Yesterday S. S. Knoles delivered to the police department the new hats recently purchased. The hats for the patrolmen are black fedoras and the chief's hat is a light fedora.

In keeping with other lines of retrenchment on the part of the administration in an endeavor to wipe out the floating indebtedness, Mr. Knoles furnished the hats at actual cost.

Lubrication

Many auto owners realize the importance of LUBRICATION, yet neglect it.

What is the result? An old, rattly car before you know it. You blame the factory and the dealer when you should blame yourself. Any car will give you good service at its price, if you will do your part. That part is constant and thorough lubrication. We do this work as it should be done. We do not overlook the small things. All oil and grease passages are cleaned so the oil can reach the required place. If you doubt our thoroughness, if you doubt our ability, then it is your duty to investigate. Ask our customers. Ask the dealers. All work is done under personal observation. Thoroughness is our motto now and always.

The same director, the same scenarist, the same photographer, the same girl of "Battling Jane", "The Hope Chest", "Boots". But—

A different story, a new story, an unusual story. It has thrills—but there's some reason for them.

It has comedy—but it's not forced.

It has action—but the action means something.

It has suspense—but the suspense is carefully developed.

It has pathos—but there's a happy ending.

We Aid Our Clerks

It is the policy of this institution to treat our clerks as fellow workmen. They are not simply hired, placed behind the counter and told to sell bread, cake, pies, etc. That is not salesmanship. In order that our sales people may be of the greatest assistance to our patrons, we instruct them as to the best methods of doing this service.

There is a certain policy in this bakery and it is our aim to drill and educate the clerks to carry out this policy. Its success has been demonstrated by the continued growth of our patronage.

Then, too, each one knows his duty to the house and to the public. We appreciate their efforts and their loyal work and the public appreciates it, too. Thus in aiding our clerks

THE COMMUNITY REVIVAL SERVICE

At the big tent last night Evangelist Miteal had for his theme, "The King Hid in the Stuff." The sermon was based on a text taken from Samuel 15-22. The evangelist's words were of a kind that held the undivided attention of his large audience. He spoke with conviction and at the conclusion of the services there were three conversions. In addition, two young people decided to take up definite Christian work. In the early part of the services Mr. and Mrs. Shimer sang with especially fine effect a duet, "Drifting Away."

Following the service the young people had a social hour with refreshments on the lawn just east of the tent. There were also some special games with an election between Republicans and Democrats as a feature. There will be no cottage prayer meetings today on account of the holiday. Tonight, however at 8 o'clock a brief patriotic service will be held.

This well known aggregation carries a large number of fine musicians and soloists. The itinerary includes the principal cities of Montana, Wyoming, South Dakota, Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas. The orchestra is billed for one hundred and twenty-six concerts.

STRIKING COSTUMES

The Patriotic Drum Corps appeared last evening in all the glory of 1776 costumes, wigs, three cornered hats and all and created a decided sensation. The costumes are really elegant, silk and satin with other goods to match and the musicians look simply immense in them and will be a highly attractive feature of the parade today.

COW TESTING RECORDS FOR MONTH OF JUNE

Report Just Made Public Shows Decrease in Number of Cows Tested For June—Everett Clampt of Jacksonville had High Record Cow for Month.

The report of the Jacksonville-Springfield Cow Testing Association just made public for the month of June by Lou R. Henderson, official tester, shows that only 444 head of cows were tested during the thirty day period. This decrease came as a result of a desire on the part of many members to give their cows a six or eight weeks' rest preparatory to late summer and early fall freshening. However, 47 head made the 40lb. list and ten of the number made better than 50 lbs. of butter fat. The cause of the shortage of cows on the 40 lbs. list is the short pasture and hot days during the latter part of the month. However, the members who have followed the tester's advice and have fed 1 lb. of grain to each 5 lbs. of milk produced, have not noticed much drop in production.

The Jacksonville State Hospital again had 20 cows on the 40-lb. list out of 61 head tested. Altogether, the high cow for the month, the hospital had the next 4 places out of the 5 highest.

The high herd average goes to Albert Hopper of Jacksonville. Mr. Hopper's 11 grade and pure bred Holsteins averaged 886 lbs. of milk, tested 3.5 and made 31.01 lbs. butter fat.

Everett Clampt of Jacksonville had high cow for the month. She produced 1488.0 of milk, tested 4.7, and made 69.93 lbs. butter fat. Altogether Mr. Clampt is a new member, he is rapidly coming to the front by careful feeding and attention to his herd.

The following names are those of the members who had 40-lb. cows: Jacksonville State Hospital 20; J. P. Doan 10; Everett Clampt 8; Ois Johnson 3; M. S. McCollister 1; L. J. Foster 3; F. E. Shuster 1; Mrs. G. W. Taylor 1.

DEMAND IN FURNITURE MARKETS IS STRONG

Exhibits Not So Large This Year As Usual—Merchants Have Greater Difficulty in Securing Goods.

John L. Johnson, of the firm of Johnson, Hackett & Guthrie, who has recently returned from the Michigan furniture markets held annually at Grand Rapids, was commenting Thursday on the increasing difficulty in getting goods, and the large number of vacant spaces this season in the exhibit halls. Mr. Johnson states that many manufacturers gave their salesmen advance notice that they could sell but limited amounts of goods as it would be impossible to deliver more.

When a certain article or line is exhausted oftentimes weeks and months are required before a new supply can be received. Shortage of labor and of materials is given as the cause. Mr. Johnson said the market opened on June 23 and on that date one thousand and two buyers had registered and that within a few days more than four thousand were on hand from all parts of the country.

Many late comers being disappointed. Mr. Johnson says one fortunate phase of the situation is that during and since the war there have been very few new designs in furniture brought out, making it less difficult to obtain the supply of goods necessary for the public's needs.

FRED G. BUFFE NOW GENERAL MANAGER

Is Placed at Head of Kansas City Railways Company—Has Had Wide Experience in Street and Interurban Railway Operation.

Fred G. Buffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Buffe of this city, was recently made general manager of the Kansas City Railways Company. The appointment comes as just recognition of his services during the past two years while he was assistant to the president of the corporation.

Mr. Buffe has had wide experience in street railway and interurban operation. For a number of years he was with the Illinois Traction System. With this system he was in charge of publicity and did much toward building up the interurban business in this section of the country.

Prior to his connection with the Illinois Traction system Mr. Buffe was engaged in newspaper work in Denver, Colo. He also was managing editor of the Peoria Transcript for a time in 1913.

Since going to Kansas City Mr. Buffe has given excellent service and during the big strike there his work was such that he received a substantial increase in salary June 1. His promotion to the position of general manager shows that he has made good during his connection with the Kansas City company.

Mr. Buffe was a student at Illinois college for a number of years and then attended Wesleyan at Bloomington. He has many friends here who will be glad to hear of his promotion and who predict that still further recognition will come to him.

ARRANGEMENTS AT NICHOLS PARK TODAY

The chairman of the park board was somewhat impressed when he found on his desk yesterday the question:

"Has the park board made all arrangements for parking cars at Nichols park?"

Of course the mayor was doing right to see to it that all matters were receiving due attention. The fact is the matter of parking cars was thoroughly discussed at the meeting Tuesday evening and yesterday morning the chairman went out to the park and with Superintendent Hopper, who is thoroughly reliable, went over the whole situation. These are the arrangements.

Positively no cars to be parked in any driveway.

Entrance by west driveway only and exit by the east way.

All cars first coming will be guided by a policeman to the west side of the park and arranged in order by a second man on the slope toward the lake south of a line with the large pavilion. This space will accommodate a great many cars. Then on the south side cars may be parked at will avoiding the playground and vicinity of the large eating pavilion; none north of a line with the permanent eating pavilion. These spaces must be occupied first and then if more cars come the rules regarding the grass fill be relaxed today and cars may park where they will not be in the way along the driveways on the grass, drivers taking great care not to damage flowers and shrubbery.

It is the earnest desire of the park board to have everything in the best of shape for the day and appearances are that it will succeed. There are good wells for pleasure seekers and the entertainment committee in addition will have the chautauqua drinking tank on the ground so that there will be no difficulty in getting plenty of good water though nothing stronger will be on tap.

There will be four deputy sheriffs to mingle among the crowds and see that order is maintained and the large force of special police will also help.

THE OLD SILSBY

ENGINE SOLD
Contractor Bretz has bought of the city council the old Silsby fire engine for $200 which may seem cheap, but the city fathers made a good bargain. Mr. Bretz is going to use it for pumping water as he works the highways.

POLICE SITUATION IN WHITE HALL

City Council Retains Two Men on Night Force—Post of American Legion Being Formed—Other White Hall Notes.

White Hall, July 3.—The city council has settled the night police situation by retaining two men on the night force. G. W. Clouder is given a salary of $25 per month in addition to the revenue he gets from the merchants as watchman in the business section of town. I. N. Swartwood is given a salary of $75.00 per month as night policeman. The city marshal gets $90.00 per month, and hence White Hall now has three policemen. The annual appropriation ordinance carries items totaling $130,000, including $80,000 for paving. Pre-election promises of economy do not seem to be borne out in these transactions. At that time the writer proposed the establishment of a municipal press bureau on a salary of $50.00 per month, but was squelched, and now comes an extra policeman at a salary of $75.00 per month, who is about as necessary as the mayor's third leg, especially when many were led to believe that the new administration would have the city get along with only one policeman instead of three who would serve mostly at night.

A local post of the American Legion is being formed this week, and permanent organization will be effected next Sunday at a meeting in Princess theatre. The organization is confined to veterans of the world war. Lynn C. Smith is temporary chairman and Joseph Lyman temporary secretary and treasurer. A name will probably be chosen next Sunday.

L. P. Allen was over from Greenfield this week, searching the Allen family history.

Henry Wenker returned from Chicago this week. He has now spent seven months in the study of embalming, and is considering engaging in the business, but has not chosen a location.

Arrangements are being made to receive returns from the Willard-Dempsey bout at Toledo, Ohio, Friday afternoon. The service will be handled thru the interlocking tower.

ATTENTION MARCHERS IN PARADE

The following corrections are made in mobilization orders and marching formation:

The General Red Cross Float mobilizes at the northwest corner of State and Kosciusko streets and follows the Junior Red Cross in the parade.

The Community Council Float mobilizes at the southeast corner of Prairie and Morgan streets and precedes the Anti-Tuberculosis Float in the parade.

War Mothers mobilize at the northwest corner of College avenue and Church street and follows the Soldier Unit in the parade.

The Y. M. C. A. Float mobilizes at the southwest corner of State and Kosciusko streets and follows the Illinois College Float in the parade.

GEORGE TANDY HERE

Friends of Uncle George Tandy were pleased to greet him yesterday. He came here from Decatur for a short visit with Jacksonville friends. He is looking wonderfully well for a man just 87 years old. He is kindly cared for by children and grandchildren, both in Decatur and in Iowa. He and a brother out west are the only survivors of a family of twelve. Elderly citizens will remember the brother who had a photograph gallery in the second story of the building now occupied by J. Herman's ready to wear and millinery store.

NICHOLS PARK ROADS OILED

The driveways in Nichols park have been treated to a generous coat of oil by a generous county board and sincere thanks are hereby tendered by the park board and the public in general. The order to close wasn't practicable and, as it turned out, not needed. The oil is pretty well pressed in by vehicles passing over it and the prospect is for no dust in the park today.

FOR MOTHERS OF SONS LOST IN THE WAR

A special mark of respect is to be paid the mothers of sons lost in the great war. A platform has been erected at the northeast corner of the square and is to be supplied with chairs for the use of these ladies only. About 150 can be seated there and all mothers of sons who died are invited to the seats.

SEE HERE, OLD SOLDIERS

All who are willing to join the parade Friday please leave your names at the Journal office. Underscore you are asked to assemble in central park on the square about half past ten to eleven and there you will be provided with conveyance, taken in the parade, to Nichols park, to a free dinner, and back to town again. No marching for you and a free dinner at Nichols park.

O. F. CONKLIN MAKES LAND VALUES A STUDY

Came Here Eighteen Years Ago
on Account of Soil Possibilities —Keeps Young Tract Management of Many Tracts.

There are few citizens of Jacksonville who have seen so much of the world as O. F. Conklin. This is true in several ways, because Mr. Conklin has been a great traveler and for the further reason that while still young he has spent so many years on earth. Mr. Conklin is not a bit sensitive about his age, in fact, doesn't care who knows that he is eighty-two years old and still very vigorous.

It was just about twenty years ago that Mr. Conklin came to Jacksonville and Morgan county from his home in Grand Rapids, Mich., where for many years he had been a successful merchant, real estate broker and operator. Within a few days after his coming to Morgan county the visitor was known as "the man with the auger" for wherever he visited a farming community he had with him an auger, and it was soon found that he was using it to bore down into Morgan county soil.

With Soil Auger.
At first there were some people who thought the visitor was looking for oil or mineral deposits, but it was not long until they learned that Mr. Conklin was using a soil auger and that his investigations were for the purpose of finding out something about the subsoil in the various localities of the counties that he visited.

Mr. Conklin said in conversation recently: "In those days I visited a number of farms where the owner said, 'Why this black dirt is more fertile than any other I can dig down thru it with that auger I will give you the farm.' Now these men thought that they were telling the truth, but that soil auger of mine indicated that in very few instances was the black soil of this county deeper than 18 inches—and that is deep enough if the top of the soil is treated in the proper way."

The investigations of Mr. Conklin were by no means confined to Morgan county, for he came here after making some similar inquiries in other corn belt counties of this state and also after a like expedition into the corn country of Iowa. As a result of these trips Mr. Conklin evidently decided that the opportunities for investment were better here than elsewhere and consequently it was not long afterward before he made the purchase of a number of farms.

Made Thoro Inspection
This was not done until he had visited practically every section of Morgan county. At that time he in several instances paid prices for Morgan county farms which local residents thought were considerably in excess of their value. In fact, Mr. Conklin at that time paid the highest prices ever known for Morgan county land and his discretion was justified by later events.

With passing years Mr. Conklin sold some of his farms and bought others, tho he is not engaging in real estate particularly as a speculative proposition. He found sometimes that changes were desirable and in such instances he has usually sold small farms in order to buy larger acreages of land in one tract.

So thruout the eighteen years of his residence Mr. Conklin has continued to be a land buyer and seemingly is always in the market for a good farm. His last purchase was made two or three months ago, when he bought from M. F. Dunlap the Dunlap farm located about four miles east of Jacksonville. A number of the Conklin farms are really the property of Mr. Conklin's brother, living in Grand Rapids.

Tho past four score years of age, Mr. Conklin is ready at any time for a day's work—that is, in making a long cross country journey or in supervising farm work. Of course he does not attempt to get out in the hot sun and take actual part in farming operations, but there is no farm owner in this country who has a better or more accurate knowledge of what is being done on the farms under his supervision, or the manner in which it is being done. He knows farming "like a book" and the men who rent from him understand that the right methods of agriculture must be followed, that the land must not be robbed and that fertility must be kept up.

Looking to the Future.

Mr. Conklin makes no prophecies about what the future holds for agriculture. In fact, when asked for an opinion about what he thinks along these lines Mr. Conklin invariably replies with the greatest conservatism: "I do not know." It is known to be his view that everything looks very prosperous for the farming industry with promise of continued high prices for a period at least, but he feels that there is some uncertainty and that later on there is very likely to be a drop in the prices of farm products. If that time comes it seems to be his belief that if farm values do not fall that there will at least be sluggishness in the real estate market and farms will not be changing hands rapidly.

"Money is cheap," said Mr. Conklin, "and the purchasing price is less. So it is not surprising that farm valuations have increased in a rapid way. I buy farms for investment because I know the money will be safe there for myself or those who hold my property after me, and whether or not the market values change the land will still be there and the value returns will probably be very much the same from year to year—that is, relatively speaking. The price of the land may not be so high, the price of the products may not be so high, but in their relation to other values the farm returns will probably be just as satisfactory as they are now."

The Path to Good Health.

Mr. Conklin attributes his good health to the fact that he keeps busy and further that he has taken good care of himself in the matter of diet and sleep. Following his theory, no man makes anything in the long run by cutting his hours of sleep, and for good health real attention to the diet is essential. To men who feel old at fifty-five or sixty years and think that they are about thru business affairs, certainly Mr. Conklin is an inspiration. He is thoroughly interested in business matters, is posted on those things to which he has given attention and his judgment is sound and worth while. It is a wonderful thing to know that a man can so preserve his faculties as to be in virulent strength of mind and body after eighty-two years have passed.

In this connection it is interesting to note that Mr. Conklin's land experiences began long before he came to Jacksonville. In Grand Rapids he engaged for many years in the real estate business with his brother and very frequently served as an inspector of land for an insurance company doing a large business in making loans.

From County Agents Office

Farm Labor Situation

There has been a very strong demand for farm labor the last few days. Until last Tuesday this office filled every request for help with very satisfactory labor. On Monday numerous requests came in from parties that had previously failed to notify us that they would need help. As a result we were swamped. However, by using the telephone, the newspapers and by making personal canvas we met the demand in part. In handling farm labor a peculiar code of ethics occasionally comes to light.

Two men were left at a store in the eastern part of the county until the farmer could drive down for them. Another man came along and, without any hesitation whatever, hired the men to work for him. It certainly is a question as to who was at fault, the farm hands who broke their word or the employer who encouraged them to do it by hiring them away from the other man. If this condition were general the only safe plan would be to come in with an automobile and take the help directly to the farm or else ask the county agent to bring them out.

Multiple Hitch Demonstration
Wayne Dinsmore of the Percheron Society of America has promised to assist us in a multiple hitch demonstration the last part of July. In all probability arrangements will be made for holding demonstrations in adjoining counties on three successive days. The matter has been taken up with the county agents in adjoining counties.

Dry Method for Oats Smut

The county agent recently visited a field of oats in which the seed was treated for smut by the dry method. The seed was treated according to the directions of the United States Department of Agriculture, by the county agent and a special representative of the United States Department of Agriculture. However, the field contains a liberal sprinkling of smutted heads. The dry treatment in this case evidently did not work. The county agent is making these statements frankly for the purpose of trying to find out why it did not work. As yet, we have not had time to visit the other fields in this county sown with seed treated in a similar way. Sometimes the formaldehyde used is not of the proper strength but, at this time, we do not know why it failed to work.

WHITE HALL MAN WANTS SAFETY FIRST

R. B. Pearce, the Journal's White Hall Correspondent, Believes Some Drastic Action Should be Taken by State Highway Department to Prevent Accidents at Railroad Crossings.

White Hall, Ill., July 2.—The Safety First movement should be applied to automobilism in some effective manner that will avoid accidents at railroad crossings. This subject probably should receive the attention of state highway departments, as the management of railroads go to the very limit in providing devices and danger signs where railroads intersect highways, especially so at the more dangerous crossings.

This subject has been brought forcibly to public attention by near accidents on two successive days this week at the north limits of White Hall. Here, the main highway north and south through the city crosses the Burlington track without any obstruction of the view of the driver. On Monday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock two young fellows from Roodhouse approached this crossing in the face of the south bound Burlington passenger train, and seeing that the train was right upon them, they turned the car almost instantly in the direction in which the train was moving as the train brushed by, the car stopping on a small precipice sufficient to have caused the car to turn over into the ditch had it not stopped where it did. No damage resulted.

Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock a car was being driven north out of White Hall at a rapid rate of speed as an extra freight train on the Burlington from the north was approaching, and the speed of the car was not checked as it approached the crossing in the face of the freight train, a quick turn into the ditch at the side of the track saving the autoist from colliding with the train. The ditch at this point is deep, but the car ran into it upright, and very little if any damage resulted in this case.

In the June number of "The Train Dispatcher," a monthly magazine, there is an article on "Safety from the Standpoint of the Train Dispatcher," that contains matter of general public importance. The author of the article is A. C. Poole of Roodhouse, Illinois, a C. & A. train dispatcher, and he concludes in a commendatory vein on the splendid cooperation that exists between highway and railroad officials in the matter of reducing accidents at railroad crossings. The writer calls attention to the fact that trains are not alone the source of danger at railroad crossings, as hand cars, speeders, motor cars and other form of conveyances on railroad tracks are probably even a greater source of danger than are trains, and that drivers of automobiles and vehicles should be on the lookout for any kind of moving objects on railroad tracks. The provision of danger signs does not seem to entirely eliminate the careless driver. This portion of Mr. Poole's article should be given elaborate portrayal and wide distribution on the part of the state highway department and railroad managements, as the constantly increasing automobile traffic justifies every possible effort to minimize danger at railroad crossings.

NOTICE.

There is an ordinance prohibiting the use of explosives on the 4th of July. There is a greater necessity at the time of the Welcome Home celebration of refraining from the use of fire crackers and fireworks of all kinds, because many of the floats are decorated with tissue paper, some are hauled by horses and carry children. Should a horse be frightened or a float catch on fire from the discharge of a fire cracker, serious damage might result, perhaps in the loss of life. It is to be hoped that parents will have their children refrain from exploding fireworks of any kind in the line of march.

It is hoped that the citizens will respect this request, but if they do not, violators will be arrested and prosecuted.

SHE HAD SUFFERED FOR 29 LONG YEARS
Mrs. Clarkson Had Rheumatism So Bad She Often Cried All Night in Pain—Gains 30 Pounds Taking Tanlac.

"My gain of thirty pounds in weight during the past few weeks speaks volumes for Tanlac," said Mrs. Catherine Clarkson, residing at 2440 College street, Kansas City, Mo., recently.

"There has been such a pronounced change in my condition," she continued, "that my friends readily notice it and speak of it. Of course, I think my increase in weight is wonderful and I am proud of it, but the benefit I appreciate most is my relief from suffering. I have been a victim of rheumatism for twenty nine years and only those afflicted the same way can know the agony I suffered. During damp weather and just before a rain sharp pains would shoot all thru my body, but it was in my knees I suffered most. My right knee, especially has been so swollen stiff and painful during the past two years that I could not bend it. I had to have a steel brace made to fit this knee so I could walk around. The ligaments and leaders were drawn until my knees was out of shape, and I have often thought my rheumatism was caused by constipation, as I have always been troubled more or less in this way, having to take something constantly. I also lost weight and my general health became very bad, and while I just tried everything nothing gave me any relief.

"One day I read a statement made by a lady living on Prospect avenue, telling how Tanlac had relieved her of rheumatism, so I began taking the medicine myself. I am just now on my fifth bottle and considering the length of time I have suffered the results have been remarkable. The rheumatism pains have disappeared almost entirely, and I do believe Tanlac is going to clear my system of it altogether. I have been told that my right knee would never be any better, but I can bend it some already, and the pain is entirely gone. I have also been relieved of constipation, my appetite is fine, and I am feeling better in every respect than I have in many years. So I don't feel that I could say enough in praise of Tanlac. It certainly is grand medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve; in Meredosia by Mr. R. B. Field; in Murphysville by M. E. Gilbert; in Waverly by the Wyle Drug Co.—Adv.

The Bridge to Shoe Economy

lies in our shoe repairing. Why pay the high costs of new shoes when for a small fraction of the cost we can make your old ones serve for months longer. It's a sound business-like argument. When the uppers are good, we can make the "lowers" as good as the "uppers."

WHITE HALL MAN IS AUTHORITY ON HORSES

W. S. Corsa, Proprietor of Gregory Farm, interviewed on "The Passing of the Horse."

White Hall, July 1.—W. S. Corsa, proprietor of Gregory Farm, the only farm and live stock breeding plant in Greene county that maintains an office in town, has returned from an absence of a month on his Nebraska ranch and in New York. Mr. Corsa is the owner of the $40,000 Percheron stallion Carnot, and when asked for an interview on the now common phrase, "The Passing of the Horse," Mr. Corsa said:

"Contrary to expectations and the surprise of many farmers and the mystification of those not intimately acquainted with the horse trade business, the price of horses has steadily recovered as the year 1919 has progressed. The fact of the matter is that the farmers themselves have made the horse market during the past several months. During the active campaign of the war time for increased agricultural production, the tractor came into special prominence. This was due, of course, in the first place to the additional power required for the production of these crops, and also from favorable weather conditions for the use of tractors in farm operation, and to the exceedingly lavish advertising campaign put out by the tractor manufacturers.

"It was also clearly evident to the farmers as a class that the feed put into hogs and cattle was bringing a better and larger return than when put into the horses. The general result was a drifting away from horse production, and many farmers went so far as to sell off a major portion of their horse power. With the coming of the spring work of the present year there was a rude awakening. The expensive tractors were useless in the frequently muddy fields, the horses were gone, and there remained but one alternative—go into the market and repurchase the horse power that had been disposed of at more or less of a sacrifice. This would have been well nigh impossible except for the fact that the government had a large surplus of horses to dispose of, which supplied the farmers' wants and which furthermore enabled the government to salvage its stock of this description at a continually enhancing value.

"The lesson has been pretty well learned. We have it on good authority that 'man cannot live on bread alone,' and the farmers have learned from experience that they cannot farm successfully in all sections with tractors alone. The opinion has come to be pretty well accepted that while farming can be done solely thru horse power, and cannot be done solely or even largely thru tractor power alone, that where tractors are economical providers of farm power, still practically the same number of horses are required as before the introduction of tractors in carrying on farm work. Those farmers who have appreciated this fact and continued to breed their good mares to good draft stallions will reap their reward.

"The pendulum has started back with a strong swing, and the increased value and the appreciation of the necessity of the right type and class of horses as an economical and at times indispensable farm power, is recognized today by the average farmer as never before. Horses under 1300 pounds are without class and without value either as farm power or in the larger horse markets. The farmer of today, while progressive, who yet harks back to the time when farming was largely self-supporting, and provided as largely as possible for all of its wants, including its necessary farm power, keenly realizes that the same condition holds as true today as at any time in the past. In producing his own horses, he is constantly renewing his farm power, and by selling his surplus of aged horses, he is reducing his farm power depreciation to lowest terms.

"In recent years the knowledge and appreciation of what makes a good horse for this purpose is coming to the majority of farmers. The market of selling and buying as well as the farmers' use of these animals, have brought this out in high relief. The sound, drafty, well shaped, active horse is doing the farmers' work and still selling at a good profit. In fact the day of the scrub stallion has gone. They are practically and fortunately unmarketable. Breeders of pure-bred draft horses report that the demand for high class draft stock is stronger today than it has been for some years past.

"Farmers are beginning to realize that horses can not be produced on order in unlimited number in a few months. The colts foaled in the spring of 1919 will not come into the collar until the spring of 1922, except where the foalbearing man wisely trains his colts, as should be done, the fall preceding the spring in which the colts are first to be worked. So time is a factor to be reckoned with in renewing the draft horse power for the farmer, and he will not lose further time in rehabilitating his farm power requirements."

NOTICE

On July 4th during the formation and until after the parade, no vehicle will be allowed to park from Diamond street to the square on West State street nor on the square nor from square to Jacksonville State Hospital on South Main street.

Between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 10:00 p. m. no vehicles will be allowed to park on State street from West street to East street — on Main street from North street to College avenue, nor upon the square.

It is hoped that the citizens take kindly to this regulation, because if automobiles or vehicles are allowed to park as usual, it will spoil the Welcome Home Celebration and the officers are sure that that county recognizes the spirit of the day and will cheerfully abide thereby.

NOTICE TO CITIZENS
There is an ordinance, punishable by fine, prohibiting the placing of grass or trash in the gutters of the city. Material so placed is washed into the sewers, stops up the manholes and sewers. The sewers are in none too good a condition anyhow and the City of Jacksonville has no money to clean trash and grass out of the manholes. Citizens can help by reporting to the Police Department those who violate this ordinance and can help by creating community spirit to keep clean gutters in front of their houses.

MERCHANT FINANCIAL WRECK

"I am a financial wreck because of the expense of doctors and medicine for my wife. She has been a chronic sufferer for 10 years. Some pronounced it gall stones, some gastritis and some intestinal inflammation. I happened to read an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and from the first dose my wife has steadily improved." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by all druggists.

THE M. E. EXHIBIT AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ohio, July 3. "The Methodist Exposition at Columbus is not only a big thing, it is a great thing," declared Chaplain Thomas Tiplady of the British army, who saw actual fighting at the front in France and who is the author of "The Cross at the Front," and "The Soul of the Soldier."

Chaplain Tiplady continued: "It marks a turning point in the history of Protestantism. The originators of the Exposition have done a bigger thing than they dreamed of, and it is doubtful if even yet they realize what they have done. The fact is they have humanized the church and brought back the smile to the face of religion. The Exposition is a religious fair that we have been waiting for during two or three hundred years. We owe a great debt to our Puritan Fathers. They cleansed the church from an accumulation of superstition and error and gave mankind religious freedom. But to do this they had to use the knife ruthlessly and in saving the life of the patient they maimed him. They realized that it was better, if the eye offended, to cut it out, and to enter into life maimed, rather than to have two eyes and two hands to be cast into hellfire. But they took the smile from religion and gave it a sour and stern visage. To me the Methodist Exposition appears as an unconscious protest against the continuance of the Puritan ideal. The Exposition has brought back poetry and laughter to religion. It is a religious fair and I would that every boy and girl could be brought to it."

This is more than a place where you can get your battery charged.

It is more than a store where you can buy a new battery.

As we look at it we are neighbors of yours, and we want you to feel the same way about it. A good way to get acquainted is to drive around and have us test your battery with a hydrometer. If you like, we'll show you how to do it, and tell you the few simple rules that ought to be followed to keep the charge up to 1.285, where it belongs.

If yours is a new car with a Willard Battery, be sure to drive in right away so that we can register the battery and give you the benefit of Willard 90-day battery insurance.
